

Before discarding this paper, please read it.

This is important information regarding the Sandy Hook shooting, which occurred on December 14, 2012. The media made a big deal out of it; even the president himself appeared on screen to let the public know how bad the situation was.

Please, understand this. Do not make anything more out of this than what is given.

This is a list of information compiled for the public, after many painstaking hours of research.

Before you throw this paper into the garbage, please do a little bit of research. On this paper, there will be URLs pointing to different websites, different YouTube.com videos, and even Google Caches. Many websites have already been taken down, but the Google Caches remain.

A Google Cache is Google's own backup of a website. There is absolutely no way for this information to be faked, from the outside.

This paper is going to focus on the first, undeniable FACT that was found. There were several websites that were created BEFORE the Sandy Hook shooting happened. Please, do not take this with a grain of salt. After the first website was found, it was screen capped. Of course, it ended up deleted. Luckily, the Google Cache is still there for the public to view!

He makes fun of the situation, laughing a few times. At around 1:50-2:00, he gets lost in what he is saying; looks at a police officer to our right who then nods.

Just "Happened" to be on Dec 14, the same day of the shooting? Well maybe. Wait.. Friday? A free, Friday-only course? I don't think so. Also, there are simple things that don't add up.

>class size limited to "30"

>5 of 40 seats available

>last day to register: 12/13/2012

Yeah, right. Coincidence.

School Calendar:

This is a little strange, as well. Notice how they are doing a test "all week."

Over...Geography? A week? What?? May be coincidence, considering I had finals that week, as well. But seriously, a week long test, and it started the day most of these pages that were created about the deaths were.. the 10th.
