Subject: Conduct review on Chesterman

Incident Report: Chesterman has been reported for misconduct and will be looked into for the next few days.

Findings: After a run through most if not all of Chestermans activity on the Forums I was only able to find out that he was offering player “foreign currency” in a public section of the Forums. As far as I know, players are allowed to make out of character deals as long as it is all kept in private.

Are you accepting foreign currency for this? Daniel Chesterman -1411

Chesterman’s extreme misconduct can all be seen below. Disrupting working administrators, using hacks in public and much more can be found.

Artur Pirozkov says “I though we’re in the middle of RP here.”

Conclusion: Chesterman must definitely be punished due to his misconduct. He has been behaving like this for over a week now. It is clear that his conduct is horrible and he is not doing a good job representing the administrative team.

Austin
