What exactly is a “Work and Holiday” Visa?

The Australian Government made the Work and Holiday program to encourage cultural exchange to build closer ties between the United States and Australian people the arrangement allows young people to have an extended holiday supplemented by short-term employment.

Do I qualify?

While Oz Work Visa would love to help everyone enjoy an amazing trip to Australia, please note the following Work Visa eligibility requirements. All applicants must:

- Be between 18 years and 30 years inclusive (at the time you apply)
- Hold a valid US passport (preferably valid for at least 6 months)
- Have functional English
- Have a high school diploma or equivalent

- Have support funds (generally AUD5,000)
- Have health insurance covering your stay in Australia. (Highly recommended)
- Meet Australia’s health requirement
- Meet Australia’s character requirement. More information is available from www.immi.gov.au/allforms/character

Visa overview:

A Work and Holiday visa allows the visa holder to:

- Enter Australia within 12 months of the date of visa grant
- Stay in Australia for up to 12 months
- Leave and re-enter Australia any number of times while the visa is valid
- Work in Australia for up to 6 months with each employer;
- Study for up to 4 months.

What happens after I lodge my visa?

Your application will be assessed by the Australian Department of Immigration. You may be asked to provide additional information to enable a decision to be made. You will be advised in writing or email whether your application has been approved. If your application is refused, you will be given reasons for the decision. You should not make any irreversible travel arrangements until you receive written advice of the department’s decision on your application.

Can I get a second Work and Holiday Visa for Australia?

You can only ever enter once on the Work & Holiday visa. Americans enter on a subclass visa that grants a one-time 12 months of work and travel. If you would like to stay longer ask us how you can get sponsored by an Australian company.

If you’re interested in working and traveling more, ask us about the Work & Holiday Visa to New Zealand.

Does Oz Essentials Program get me a job?

Before you arrive in Australia we make sure we know what type of job you want and make sure your resume is polished and fits the Australian format. We leverage all of our personal experience and local partners to your advantage. We will give you an over the phone orientation of the Do's and Don'ts for interviewing, securing a job, and working in your destination. We constantly follow all the local job boards, and have strong employment agency contacts. The vast majority of participants find work within two weeks of arrival.

Keep in mind that Oz Work Visa does not place you in a job, but rather provides you with all of the resources and insider-advice needed to find work for your entire stay down under. We believe in giving you total freedom in realizing exactly the working holiday adventure that suits you best as an individual.

If you are interest in a guaranteed job take a look at our Cattle Farm Program.

What type of work can I get?

Backpackers work in all types of different lines of work- it is really up to you and what you are most interested in doing. We will be able to advise you on work in all sorts of different fields- however, you might also want to do a little research on your own ahead of time on places you might be interested in working in if your field is very specific. Then when you arrive we can give you advice and help you format your resume.

Do I need to have insurance?

Not having travel insurance will not prevent the Australian Immigration Office from issuing your visa but we highly recommend that you have it. Although, Australia has universal health care it only covers Australian citizens and mutual health care partners. America is not one of those partners.

Travel insurance generally covers basic areas like medical problems, property loss, trip cancellation/interruption and emergency evacuation

We have partnered with ISIC to offer unbeatable comprehensive travel insurance to students and travelers under 26 years old that last your entire 12 month stay in Australia. Ask us for information
