Tabletop Number

The Tabletop Number is a Pokedex reordering that places evolution lines that spanned different franchise generations next to each other in a sensible way. Three-stage evolution families are placed in the front of the Tabletop Pokedex, followed by two-stage families and one-stage families last. After these, Fossil Pokemon and Pseudo Legendaries are listed. Pokemon with a Tabletop Number that starts with the letter L are listed in the Legendary Pokedex, separate from the normal pokemon.

Species Name

Each Pokemon is part of a Species grouping. Individual stages of a single Pokemon’s evolutionary line are not part of the same Species, but are part of the Species’ family. When talking about a specific evolutionary line, or branched evolutionary tree, it is common to refer to the line or branch by the Species name of the first Stage of the line. For example to talk about the Pichu, Pikachu and Raichu evolutionary line, you can call it the Pichu evolutionary line. Likewise, to refer to the Riolu and Lucario evolutionary line you can call it the Riolu evolutionary line. The refer to the Eevee, Jolteon, Vaporeon, Flareon, Umbreon, Espeon, Glaceon and Leafeon evolutionary branch you can call it the Eevee evolutionary line.

Picture of Pokemon

In every Pokemon entry in the Pokedex, a picture is provided to show what the average Species member looks like. However, various minor differences can be seen between individual members of the Species. Sometimes, a Pokemon can look drastically different from the norm of its Species in color. These oddities are known as Shiny Pokemon and are rare treasures sought out by collectors and coordinators all around the world.

Basic Information
Type

There are seventeen different Elemental Types in the world of Pokemon that are commonly separated into two archtypes; Physical and Special. The Physical Elemental Types are Bug, Fighting, Flying, Ghost, Ground, Normal, Rock and Steel. The Special Elemental Types are Dark, Dragon, Electric, Fire, Grass, Ice, Psychic and Water. Each Pokemon belongs to a specific Elemental Type and some Pokemon belong to two Elemental Types. Types affect how much damage a Pokemon takes when hit by Attacks and are very important factors to keep track of while battling.

Basic Abilities

Pokemon Abilities are special natural born gifts that a pokemon can utilize. Pokemon have access to at least one of their abilities from birth. Abilities are detailed in the Player’s Handbook

High Abilities

High Abilities are special natural born gifts that a Pokemon can utilize once matured. At level 40, a Pokemon may take a different Basic Ability, or their High Ability. The Dream Doctor can mess around with these mechanics and utilize High Abilities earlier than usual.

Evolution

When Pokemon mature and age, their body drastically changes in mass and shape to reach a new Stage of their Evolutionary Line. Some Pokemon do not Evolve while others do and other can Evolve twice in their lifetime. Aside from learning more about the world and physically maturing, Pokemon need a great deal of emotion to urge their Evolution. Sometimes, confidence and happiness is enough for a pokemon to evolve and other times, it is a Pokemon’s frustration and hate that pushes it to change. Not all Pokemon can naturally evolve without foreign aid. Some Pokemon require the radiation found in Evolutionary Stones to mutate themselves into their next form. There are also Pokemon who require the attachment of a keepsake to promote their evolution. Next to these various ways to evolve there are even more ways for a Pokemon to meet their next level of maturity.

Detailed in the Evolution section is the Species Names of the Pokemon that can be attained by the Species in question as well as the requirements to evolve. Remember, just because a Pokemon has met their minimum requirements does not mean they will evolve. Sometimes there are personal reasons for a Pokemon to not want to evolve.

Size Information

Height and Weight

The Height and Weights given for each Pokemon Species are averages determined by Pokemon Researchers around the world. It is not uncommon to see Pokemon who are up to 10% heavier or larger then the average or 10% lighter or smaller then the norm. When capturing Pokemon be sure to note their individual Heights and Weights. Be sure to note their changes if they evolve as well.

Pokemon sizes vary from Small, to Medium, to Large, to Huge and finally, Gigantic. On a grid, both Small and Medium Pokemon would take up one space, or a 1x1m square. A Small Pokemon may occupy a space with up to one other Medium or Small Pokemon, or a human who is “Medium” in size. Large Pokemon occupy 2x2 spaces or a 2x2m square. Huge Pokemon occupy 3x3 spaces or a 3x3m square. Finally, Gigantic Pokemon occupies 4x4 spaces or a 4x4m square. Huge and Gigantic Pokemon may also occupy stranger shapes than a square provided your GM gives you some house rulings and lets you know how many spaces your Huge or Gigantic Pokemon take and How they may be placed on a board.

Weight Classes are used for several Abilities and Moves. They range from 1 to 6 and are labeled in the parenthesis after weights.

Breeding Information

When a female Pokemon is mature enough, it can produce eggs and if a male Pokemon is mature enough, it can fertilize them. When given some time alone, Pokemon of the opposite sex and appropriately matching Egg Groups can produce oval Eggs that are approximately 5.5 pounds or 2.5 kilograms. The Species of the newborn Pokemon is determined by the mother of the Egg and the Abilities, Moves, and

Gender Ratio

Not all Species of Pokemon have an equal distribution of male and female children. When finding a pokemon in the wild, knowing the gender of a particular pokemon may make or break your desire to capture the target.

Egg Groups

Pokemon are mysterious since they can cross breed between Evolutionary Stages and even Species, but not any Pokemon can mate with any Pokemon. There are limits and these limits are defined as Egg Groups. Pokemon can only produce Eggs when mating with a Pokemon that shares an Egg Group. The Egg Groups are Bug, Dragon, Fairy, Flying, Ground, Humanshape, Indeterminate, Mineral, Monster, Plant, Water 1, Water 2, Water 3. There is also the Ditto Egg Group, exclusive to the Pokemon Species Ditto, who can breed with any other Pokemon to produce an Egg while acting as either the male or female.

Average Hatch Rate

Depending on what Species the mother of the Egg is, the baby will be the lowest form of that Species’ Evolutionary Line. Each Species takes a different amount of time to hatch so the Average Hatch Rate covers how quickly the Egg should hatch. The Average Hatch Rate however is only an average. Sometimes the Egg may take twice the length of time or only half of it, depending how well the Egg is kept.

Diet

The Diet entry explains what kind of food the Pokemon needs to survive. Carnivores primarily feed on other Pokemon, Herbivores will usually need leafy food, vegetables, nuts and fruits to survive, Omnivores can eat plants and other Pokemon, Phototrophs can photosynthesize their own food and energy. Some of the stranger diets some Pokemon have are that of a Terravore; one who feeds on the minerals found in rock and dirt around them, or the Nullivore; which does not need to eat anything to sustain itself for various reasons. Despite any primary feeding behavior any Pokemon can enjoy any edible Item designed for a Pokemon to consume such as Poffins, Apricorn Shakes or PokeBlocks. By keeping track of your Pokemon’s needs, you can influence their living conditions in a positive manner and make their partnership with you as Pokemon and Trainer more cooperative.

Habitat

There are some places that a particular Species of Pokemon will not thrive. For obvious reason, you’ll only find fish-like Pokemon in the water or rocky Pokemon near rocky places. The Habitat entry explains what kind of terrain to look for if you intend to hunt for a particular Species of Pokemon. Keep in mind, just because you may be in the appropriate terrain to find a particular Pokemon, it doesn’t mean you are in the right region of specific location.

Capability List

Each Species of Pokemon move at different rates in various terrains. They have different capacities for jumping strength and physical strength. Some Pokemon can fly while others can breath underwater. Many Species of Pokemon can be trained for being used as a Mount. Others are too small for that but can be used for infiltration as a result of their size. The Capabilities list all keywords relating to static abilities the Pokemon has. The Capabilities Keyword list is located on page .

Move List

Each Pokemon can learn Moves. Moves define how a Pokemon can be used in combat and are separated into various Elemental Types. A Move can be used to damage a foe or to alter variables in battle to gain an upper hand in battle. There are several ways for a Pokemon to learn a Move but a Pokemon must be compatible with the Move in order to be able to learn it. A Pokemon can learn a Move while gaining levels, from a Technical or Hidden Machine, when born they already know a Move or a tutor can teach the Pokemon a Move. When a Pokemon learns a Move, it is listed in their Natural Move List or their Technical Move List.

Level Up Move List

Written into each Pokemon from birth is a list of every Move their species can learn while becoming more experienced in the world. Moves on the Level Up Move List are learned when the Pokemon reaches the specified level. These Moves are placed in the Pokemon's Natural Move List.

TM/HM Move List

Technical Machines and Hidden Machines are expensive devices that when injected into a Pokemon, grow an organ within the Pokemon that allows them to perform specific Moves that each TM and HM teaches. The amount of pain involved with the procedure is unbearable for a Pokemon without medical attention so it is a Trainer's best interest to apply TMs and use HMs at Pokemon Centers. Not every Pokemon is compatible with every TM or HM so this list confirms which TMs and HMs will work successfully with each Species of Pokemon. These Moves are placed in the Pokemon's Technical Move List. If a Pokemon learned a Move through the use of a TM or HM, but the Move is on their Level Up List, they may place the Move in their Natural Move List.

Egg Move List

When a mature parent Pokemon gains access to a powerful Move, they instill the ability to use the Move in their child. Cross Species breeding can result in young Pokemon knowing bizarre, out-of-natural-typing, over powered Moves. The Egg Move List lists what Moves have been known to exist in the Species on occasion, from birth. These Moves are placed in the Pokemon's Natural Move List.

Tutor Move List

There are masters in the world who have taken the aspect of a Move and realized how to imprint the technique in various Pokemon. If you can find one of these Tutors, this list explains which Moves the Tutors can teach to your Pokemon, if the Tutor knows how to teach that specific Move. Some Tutors even know how to teach Moves that are not learned naturally anywhere or taught by any TM or HM. These Moves are placed in the Pokemon's Technical Move List. If a Pokemon learned a Move through the use of a Tutor, but the Move is on their Level Up List, they may place the Move in their Natural Move List.

Mounts:

Traveling on foot can become hard for any trainer, but with the proper tools and training, any pokemon can become a useful ride on the ground, the sea or the sky!

When Trainers are using Pokemon as Mounts, travel becomes quicker for the party and the pokemon get to be out of their Poke Ball, grabbing some exercise. So then, what are the qualifications for a pokemon to be a mount?

- Size:

If a Pokemon is too small, it wouldn't make sense for a trainer to be riding it, when their legs are dragging on the ground. This could be confusing for certain species of pokemon, but a quick look at the pokemon's level should serve as a hint as to whether or not the pokemon is too small for you. For example, a Ponyta around level 20 or 25, can serve as a mount. Ponyta may not be very tall, but it can support an average sized human considering its shape and its legs that are built to lift itself with little burden and quickly move around. However, a newly born Ponyta should not be able to lift a person. It would be very tiny. Another example would be an Onix. Onix could easily serve as an entire party's Mount. However, a newly born Onix would not be able to serve as even one person's Mount as it would probably be no longer than a meter.

- Power:

If a Pokemon is large, but is as light as a feather or weak as a twig, it probably cannot carry your weight and keep itself up as well. This would be most obvious for a sky Mount. If the Pokemon's Power is one or two, there should be no circumstance in which the pokemon would be able to carry your weight on their body.

- Equipment:

Some Pokemon might not ever be able to be a Mount, by itself. However, with a couple of Pokemon, such as a Nidorino and a Nidorina, some rope to use as reins, a sled and some training, you could have a single mount between the two pokemon. A school of Magikarp could hold a mattress up and make a raft-Mount. Several creative combinations of tools and Pokemon could create modes of transportation.

Effects on the Pokemon:

- When a Pokemon is being used as a Mount, its Speed Capabilities are lowered three and it is treated as if its Speed stat is lowered one Combat Stage. If you weigh less than a fourth of the pokemon's weight, neither the pokemon's Speed Capabilities nor their Speed stat's Combat Stages are affected.

- If you, or your Pokemon who is being used as a Mount, are hit by a damaging or status affliction Move, you are dismounted unless you can beat a STR or DEX check of 15 or better, adding either your STR or DEX modifier. If your pokemon is lowered to 0 HP or less, it collapses and you fall off.

- Average speeds out of combat should be around 10 times faster than they are during combat. While an overland speed at 10 during battle, a meter per second, is barely better than walking speed, during battle it is simply because Pokemon are moving more cautiously.

Capabilities:

Most Capabilities are very simple to understand. Except for the Basic Capabilities, each Capability is listed with a paragraph following, that explains exactly how that Capability affects the pokemon who has it. Other then that, some Capabilities are paired with a Capability Type, which is paired purely for the ranger class, who draws on specific aspects of nature when looking for specific talents for their job.

However, Basic Capabilities are slightly more complicated. That is because each pokemon in the Pokedex has Basic Capabilities. Paired with each Basic Capability in the pokedex entries are values which can be matched to the Capability listing that follows in order to define the level of aptitude a pokemon has in a particular field. In the Basic Capabilities, you will see a Capability Type, Speed, that is defined for various purposes refrenced throughout the game such as Moves that modify a pokemon’s Speed Stat or an Ability which modifys a Speed Stat. There are several reasons to keep track of the Basic Capabilities so it is best to make note of the value and meaning of the Basic Capabilities your pokemon has. Use the pokemon character sheet to do so. Some Features in Coach and Rider can modify Speed Capabilities; as a short note, there is no limit as to how high Speed Capabilities can be.

Basic Capabilities:

Burrow - Speed Capability

Burrow is a Speed Capability that defines how quickly the Pokemon can move underground. After the word Burrow, in the Capabilities listing, a number should be listed. The number paired with the Burrow Keyword corresponds with a value representing how many spaces/meters the Pokemon can Shift during a round of combat underground. The holes dug are only as large as the Pokemon who burrows. While Burrowing the Pokemon has knowledge of its underground surroundings up to X meters away, where X is its Burrow value. If a Pokemon learns the Move Dig and does not have the Burrow Capability, they gain Burrow 3. If they already have the Burrow Capability, the Burrow value is raised 3.

Intelligence

The Intelligence Capability is paired with a number from 1 to 7 that defines the Pokemon’s competence when it comes to simple thought. The Intelligence is an average expectancy of all members of that Pokemon’s species. The smarter the Pokemon is, the easier it is to act on their own accord if you can’t command them. This also means that the Species of Pokemon is more competent in the wild and a greater threat to the average Trainer.

Intelligence Value	Meaning	Examples of this Thought Level
Intelligence 1	Feeble-mindedness	Slow reaction time, unable to do simple tasks
Intelligence 2	Deficiency	Self-aware
Intelligence 3	Dullness	Can’t figure out tasks by self, but can follow
Intelligence 4	Normal	Can build, use tools
Intelligence 5	Superior	Average, human intellect
Intelligence 6	Vastly Superior	Able to function as a leader, act by self
Intelligence 7	Genius	Super Comp. thought, human languages

Jump

The Jump Capability is paired with a number from 1 to 10 that states the max height the Pokemon can jump into the air in a single bound. If your Pokemon utilizes their Jump Capability during a round of an encounter, it counts as their Shift for that round. Keep in mind you don’t have to jump straight upwards. If a Pokemon learns the Move Bounce their Jump value is raised 1.

Jump Value	Height of Jump
Jump 1	3 ft - 1 m
Jump 2	6 ft - 1.8 m
Jump 3	10 ft - 3 m
Jump 4	15 ft - 4.5 m
Jump 5	20 ft - 6 m
Jump 6	25 ft - 7.6 m
Jump 7	35 ft - 10.6 m
Jump 8	50 ft - 15.2 m
Jump 9	70 ft - 21 m
Jump 10	100 ft - 30.5 m

Overland - Speed Capability

Overland is a Speed Capability that defines how quickly the Pokemon moves while on dry land. After the word Overland, in the Capabilities listing, a number should be listed. The number paired with the Overland Keyword corresponds with a value representing how many spaces/meters the Pokemon can Shift during a round of combat.

Power

Power represents a Pokemon’s strength. Next to Power in the Pokemon’s Capability listing is a number from 1 to 10 that corresponds to a weight that the Pokemon should be able to lift. The weight given is an average, depending on how well trained your Pokemon is, they may be able to lift more then the average. Based on how much they can lifts you should be able to guess at how much they can push, or how much force they can put into their strikes. If a Pokemon learns the Move Strength their Power value is raised 1.

Power Value	Average Weight
Power 1	10 lbs - 5 kg
Power 2	50 lbs - 23 kg
Power 3	100 lbs - 45 kg
Power 4	200 lbs - 90 kg
Power 5	350 lbs - 158 kg
Power 6	500 lbs - 227 kg
Power 7	750 lbs - 340 kg
Power 8	1000 lbs - 455 kg
Power 9	2500 lbs - 1135 kg
Power 10	4000 lbs - 1815 kg

Sky - Speed Capability

Helpful pokemon cannot be ordered to attack without reason, and if capture is attempted it will fail and the pokemon will run away. However if your Pack Leader encroaches on the territory of a pokemon of the same species within 10 levels of your Pack Leader, that wild pokemon will instantly become hostile and attack. The line of silk, or vine, may be up to 10 meters long. If you target another Pokemon or person with a Threaded Shift, the Accuracy Check is 6. However, after the first use of Mirror Coat or Counter during an encounter, meaning on the second use of Mirror Coat or the second use of Counter and from that point on during the encounter, Wobbufett’s Defense and Special Defense are treated as if they are ten less (-10). This penalty is only active while calculating damage while using Mirror Coat and Counter after the first use per Encounter. If a PP Up is used on a Wobbufett’s Counter or Mirror Coat, Weeble is not needed for that Move anymore.

Weeble

Wobbuffet are very limited when it comes to their Move variety. As a result, Wobbuffet can use Counter and Mirror Coat as EOT Frequency Moves rather than as Battle Frequency Moves. However, after the first use of Mirror Coat or Counter during an encounter, meaning on the second use of Mirror Coat or the second use of Counter and from that point on during the encounter, Wobbuffet's Defense and Special Defense are treated as if they are ten less (-10). This penalty is only active while calculating damage and while using Mirror Coat and Counter after the first use per Encounter. If a PP Up is used on a Wobbuffet's Counter or Mirror Coat, Weeble is not needed for that Move anymore.

Pokémon Tabletop Adventures

Welcome to Pokémon: Tabletop Adventures.

This game is played in a world where many fantastic animals are able to be energized and stored nicely in a machine called a Poké Ball. These animals are called “pocket monsters,” or Pokémon for short, and they are carried as tools, friends and partners by Pokémon Trainers. Trainers have various skills and abilities each defined by a Trainer’s goal. There are Ace Trainers, who focus all of their energy into making their pokémon the best fighters they can. Breeders, who raise pokémon as if they are their own children and groom them up to be powerful. The Researcher gathers information and serves as a party’s go-to guy when they confront a creature they’ve never met. Rangers are natural guardians who dedicate their life to the protection of a wild creature’s habitat while employing wilds in their feats. A Capture Specialist is a techie Trainer who can tweak equipment, including the Poké Ball to expand their collection. The Coordinator employs their pokémon in Contests instead of battle as she shows off their beauty. Finally, the Psychic, Mystic and Martial Artist get their hands dirty and fight the beasts with their own supernatural powers.

A Trainer may explore the world and battle at Gyms to gather Badges which allow them entrance to the Pokémon League Championships. They may compete in Contests to enter Grand Festivals. Maybe they’ll uncover a secret plot to destroy the world and try to stop those who would use Pokémon for evil. They may be breeding the most powerful Pokémon as their goal. No matter the destination, Pokémon will be valuable allies and tools in your journeys.
